I've never seen Hitchcock's North By Northwest, in fact no one who has contributed to this zine has seen it.

I'm aware of it, that iconic poster of the fella being chased by a biplane, it looks good.

So in conclusion as Saul Bass did the titles and it's a Hitchcock film AND it's got a young James Mason in, it's worth a look.

I've only seen one bad review of it and it was a bit of itself and pissy so I'm ignoring that.

I read a few reviews and I'm well into all those James Mason head shots, he was a good looking man

So yeah watch it, everyone who's seen it reckons it's well good.

WEddING

I Said Shut up

Everybody go Cary Grant's wedding

Champagne hip hip hooray

Thank you folks for coming today

How much was the price at the door?

I'm sure it's worth a whole lot more

All you goats and fools

Cary Grant's wedding

All you goats and fools

Have been invited to

A new wave personality

stumbles out of the ruins

cos he's been invited to

Cary Grant's wedding
